

Industrial Optimizers

Planning and optimization tools second to none

Are you passionate about pursuing hidden stories in a large repository of data, enjoy working with customers to help them search for answers to their problems through their data and using software programs, eager to learn and work in a multicultural environment? If yes, we at Industrial optimizers have an exciting summer internship opportunity.

About Industrial Optimizers:

Industrial optimizers (IO) started in 1989 focused on resolving isolated optimization problems, but now has moved on to provide top management tools with business decision support that simultaneously takes in all-important aspects into consideration. It caters to the transportation industry including airlines, railways, buses and shipping. Today's comprehensive suite (MP2) has solutions comprising optimization, data analysis, management information and business intelligence. Industrial optimizers now has offices in Sweden, U.K and Mexico.

Key competencies

We are looking for a summer intern who is eager to learn and apply what they have learnt in school other than which the following skills will be good to have.

- Currently pursuing a graduate degree in engineering, computer science, mathematics or a similar field preferably in Sweden.
- Good analytical abilities to analyze data.
- Knowledge of Optimization Techniques.
- Knowledge of the aviation industry and operations research will be an added advantage.
- Ability to strive in a multicultural environment so as to support customers from all around the world.
- Can work both in a team and independently.
- Flexible to learn new skills.
- Good Spoken and written English Skills are Required.
- Comfortable with programming (Matlab/Delphi).

Your future challenge:

You will have varied tasks which might include the following:

- Analyze the customer data with the company's system to provide valid details and information.
- Develop and analyze mathematical algorithms.
- Test and calibrate the company software.
- Support/communicate with customers who comprise of transport industry professionals from all over the world.
- Contribute to planning and development of customer implementation projects.

Location

You will work in the Stockholm office of Industrial Optimizers in Strandbergsgatan 51, SE-112 51 Stockholm, Sweden.

Contact

If you are interested and think that this is interesting or have some queries write an email to careers@industrialoptimizers.com along with a link to your LinkedIn profile or a Resume and short description of yourself.

Good luck and kind regards!

Nishita Vegi

Manager, Operations Research and Development

- Maximum performance

Phone: +46 8 440 79 31

Email: nishita.vegi@industrialoptimizers.com

Strandbergsgatan 51
SE-112 51 Stockholm
Sweden

www.industrialoptimizers.com